WE ARE STRONG AS A COMMUNITY by Andre Lortz, City Council

We have been fortunate to have all our children in our home currently. I have been sharing my home office with one of my daughters as we work remotely. We get to tease each other when one of us is on a virtual meeting and begins to talk too loudly because of using a headset and not realizing the volume of our voice; or anxious to ask questions when we only hear one side of the conversation. Our youngest child, Kyle, is graduating from high school and was depressed by not being able to celebrate graduation or go to prom.

The last couple of months may have seemed like years. The very nature of our lives has been turned upside down by an invisible force. However, during this pandemic, life has continued forward. A huge shout-out to our first responders and city staff who have continued to help Kaysville be a great place to live despite the dramatic change in how they have had to approach their roles. Thanks to each of our residents for following safety guidelines. Kaysville has only seen twenty-three cases (as of May 12) of Covid-19.

This experience has focused our family on what matters most in our lives.

Kaysville City REOPENING JUNE 1ST * (tentative)

With guidance from the State of Utah, Kaysville City will tentatively reopen city offices on Monday, June 1st.

Details will be finalized and posted at www.kaysvillecity.com and the Kaysville Facebook page prior to reopening.

* date is subject to change
Each year as the weather warms, the Kaysville Police Department sees an increase in public safety concerns for various reasons. One major concern is regarding children, unlicensed drivers, operating motorized vehicles on roadways, often golf carts or go- kart related vehicles. The KPD often receives reports of children driving these UTVs and running stop signs at busy intersections.

As a department, we are concerned about unlicensed drivers’ safety on the roadways. It is a dreaded day to hear of a car versus motorized vehicle involving children. We often get calls asking what can and cannot be driven on the roadway.

Any vehicle on the roadway must be driven by a licensed driver and carry current insurance and proper registration. Golf carts are NOT considered low-speed vehicles (Utah code 41-6a-102(33b). If you’re interested in making a motorized vehicle street legal, make sure to follow Utah state registration guidelines.

If you or your children are currently driving a golf cart or similar vehicle, we ask you to think of the following:

- Does the vehicle have seat belts?
- Is the vehicle insured?
- Does the driver know how to follow the laws of the roadway?
- Does the driver have a valid driver license?
- What would happen if the driver was to get into an accident?
- What would happen if someone hit the vehicle?

If you have further questions about whether a motorized vehicle is legal to drive on roadways, please contact Officer Rich at 801-497-7070 or drich@kaysvillecity.com.

So we have had to improvise. We surprised him with a banner to celebrate his graduation and planned a small personal prom for him and a few friends (within county guidelines).

Just as the weather is improving and warming our homes, we are seeing signs of progress with this pandemic. Businesses are starting to open, and activities are available again. While we transition to more normal, we ask that you continue to follow safety guidelines like washing your hands frequently and physically distancing from others (but please stay socially connected with them). Especially be cautious around those in our community who are most vulnerable.

There have been countless acts of charity throughout our community in the past few months—neighbors helping neighbors. We have seen friends go shopping for a neighbor or relative who is most at risk. We have seen many acts of kindness and several drive-by celebrations. This is because Kaysville is full of kind and compassionate residents who have created amazing neighborhoods. We are so grateful to live in this community.

Recently, we discussed the financial impact of this pandemic on the city’s finances. Unfortunately, we will not know the true impact for several months. The good news is that Kaysville (and the state of Utah) entered this event in a good financial position. Many reports suggest that Utah will be one of the states to recover the quickest in our country.
The Kaysville City General Plan is the main tool for defining our vision of what the community is and what we want it to be in the future. It is intended to provide a clear vision forward, establishing policies for land use, transportation, housing and other critical functions of our city. It is also a key tool for establishing budgets and funding priorities.

It has been many years since the framework for the existing general plan was created, and while there have been more recent amendments and updates, it no longer presents a clear path forward. In order to address this new era of growth and refinement upon us, it is time to update the general plan. To assist with this effort, the city recently hired Landmark Design, a Salt Lake City planning and design firm. Together with their team of specialists, they are in the early stages of the planning process, establishing baseline data and analyzing existing conditions.

In order to ensure a clear vision of the future Kaysville is established, a robust public engagement process will soon begin, allowing you and your neighbors, property owners and other community stakeholders multiple opportunities to let the planning team know your concerns, issues and ideas for the future, which will then serve as the basis for establishing a new vision and a clear direction for the future.

The first of these engagement activities is to receive input for Public Scoping. To accomplish this, the public will be able to provide input throughout the month of June. We invite you to visit the project web page (https://ldi-ut.com/kaysville-gp), the Kaysville City webpage (https://www.kaysvillecity.com/204/General-Plan) or the Kaysville City Facebook page (https://www.facebook.com/kaysvillecity/) to review existing information, sign up for more information, leave comments, and participate with the engagement tools that are available.

Please note that this is just the beginning of a ten-month planning process. Additional meetings and activities are scheduled to take place later in the summer and autumn, which we hope you will also take part in as part of creating the best possible general plan for Kaysville.

For additional information please feel free to contact Mark Vlasic with Landmark Design via email at kaysville@ldi-ut.com or by phone at 801-718-4353.

NEW KAYSVILLE FIBER PROJECT

an update from Councilmember Michelle Barber

Thank you to all residents who have been involved and provided feedback on Kaysville Fiber. We have listened to residents, slowed down to further involve the community with more transparency in the process, and now are ready to present a new Kaysville Fiber plan that is simple, fair, and addresses the needs heard from residents.

The entire project will be put on the November 2020 ballot, including funding with a bond. Your vote is not if you want fiber in your home, but if you want residents and businesses in Kaysville to have the increased availability and competition for their internet services.

If the vote passes, Kaysville Fiber will begin construction right away and be completed in approximately 24 months. If the vote does not pass, the project and bond will not be pursued.

Only those who subscribe to the service will pay for it. No upfront payment required, no liens on your property, no commitments, and you can cancel at any time.

These important changes from the previously proposed project are made possible from the strong interest and competitive bids.

Proposals for the construction and operation of the network are currently being collected in order to provide initial pricing. The final pricing will be made available after City Council awards the project, contingent on the ballot vote.

Preliminary Estimated Costs: For 1 Gbps Symmetrical service with no data cap, a household can expect to pay less than $70 per month total (fiber fee, ops & maintenance, and internet service provider charges combined).

The city guarantees the bond will be paid. The cost to subscribers will be adjusted if needed, with the goal to pay it off early and return the savings to subscribers.

WHY NOW?

This project has been researched and developed for over two years, adjusting to meet the needs of Kaysville. The recent events of the Covid-19 pandemic have further highlighted the need for reliable and affordable connectivity for work, school, entertainment, and connection with friends and family. This investment will not add any increased cost to residents but will allow households to put the money they are already paying for their internet service towards better, more reliable, and affordable service. Additionally, this uncertain economy will provide low-interest rates for the infrastructure bond. No bond payments will need to be made for the first two years, ensuring time to add enough subscribers to be self-sustainable.

You can see the timeline leading up to the November vote, information on the citizens panel that was formed, different models considered, bid proposals, and more at: NewKaysvilleFiber.com
